CC: WAYNE GRINER

For the last four years I have used John Wayne Construction as my primary general contractor for all my new construction as well as my ongoing room renovation. I have found them to be a very professional as well as qualified company in all the areas of construction. They always seem to meet their contractual requirements in a speedy manner without losing a beat. Prior to my dealings with them they had dealt with the Hardy Group who were the construction managers for our twelve (12) million dollar renovation. As the renovation was completed the John Wayne Company was retained to do other projects that were not addressed during the renovation.
